Biblical Origin of "Seek and You Shall Find"

The phrase "seek and you shall find" originates from the New Testament, specifically within the teachings of Jesus Christ. It appears prominently in the Gospel of Matthew, chapter 7, verse 7, as part of the Sermon on the Mount. This passage emphasizes the importance of persistent spiritual seeking and trusting in God's response. The original Greek text uses the word "ζητεῖτε" (zēteite), which means to diligently seek or strive to find. This conveys an active, intentional pursuit rather than passive waiting. The phrase is also echoed in other New Testament passages, reinforcing its significance in early Christian instruction.

Context in the Sermon on the Mount

In Matthew 7:7-8, Jesus instructs His followers to "Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be
