Understanding the Structure of the Spelling Bee

The Spelling Bee puzzle consists of a hexagon made up of seven letters. Each game challenges players to form words that meet specific criteria. Here's a breakdown of how it works:

Basic Rules

1. Letter Usage: Players must use the center letter at least once in every word they form.
2. Word Length: Words must be at least four letters long.
3. Acceptable Words: The puzzle accepts a wide range of words, including plurals and different verb tenses.
4. Scoring: Points are awarded based on the length of the words:
 - 4-letter words: 1 point
 - 5-letter words: 2 points
 - 6-letter words: 3 points
 - 7-letter words: 5 points
 - 8-letter words (and longer): 11 points

Daily Challenges

- The Spelling Bee is updated daily, with each new puzzle presenting a unique set of letters and a new challenge for players to conquer.
- Players often aim to achieve a "Genius" score, which requires finding the 7-letter pangram (a word that uses all seven letters).
