- 1 can (28 oz) diced tomatoes (with juices)

- Salt and pepper to taste
- Fresh cilantro for garnish (optional)

Step-by-Step Instructions to Make Vegan Chili with Sweet Potatoes

Follow these steps to create a comforting bowl of vegan chili:

1. Prepare Your Ingredients

Before you begin cooking, wash, peel, and chop all your vegetables. This includes dicing the sweet potatoes, onion, bell pepper, and mincing the garlic. Having everything ready will make the cooking process smoother.

2. Sauté the Vegetables

In a large pot, heat the olive oil over medium heat. Add the diced onion and sauté for about 3-4 minutes until it becomes translucent. Then, add the minced garlic and diced bell pepper, cooking for an additional 2-3 minutes until they are softened.

3. Add Sweet Potatoes and Spices

Next, stir in the diced sweet potatoes along with the chili powder, cumin, smoked paprika, salt, and pepper. Cook for another 2-3 minutes to allow the spices to bloom and coat the vegetables.

4. Add Liquid Ingredients

Pour in the diced tomatoes (with their juices) and vegetable broth. Stir everything together to combine the flavors. Bring the mixture to a gentle boil.

5. Incorporate the Beans

Once boiling, add the black beans and kidney beans to the pot. Stir to combine, then reduce the heat to low and let the chili simmer. Allow it to cook for 25-30 minutes, or until the sweet potatoes are tender. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking.

6. Adjust Seasoning

After simmering, taste your chili and adjust the seasoning as needed. You can add more spices, salt, or pepper according to your preference.

7. Serve and Enjoy

Once the chili is ready, ladle it into bowls. If desired, garnish with fresh cilantro for an extra burst of flavor. This vegan chili pairs wonderfully with crusty bread, rice, or a simple green salad.
